Foreword

As a contribution to future social programs in the State, the North Carolina Emergency Relief Administration, through its Social Service Division, made a survey of active relief rolls in order that the social data contained in the records might be readily available.

Analyses of records of families and persons on relief were made by the social workers who had personal contact with, and supervision of, the families. The data compiled from these studies is accurate and reliable according to information received through personal contacts and observations and interpretations of the social workers.

In anticipation of State legislation pursuant to the Federal Social Security Act of 1935, the results of this research have been published in mimeograph form for the purpose of furnishing to the Governor of North Carolina, the General Assembly, and the State and local agencies responsible for the administration of State plans accurate figures concerning the numbers, types and classifications, and the problems of the persons on relief who are eligible to participate in the benefits of the program.

The 29,372 schedules, from which the data have been compiled, will be filed with the permanent records of the Emergency Relief Administration where they will be available for further reference.

Administrator

APPENDIX	28

The far reaching Social Security Act, which went into effect January 1, 1936, is divided, in its essential provisions, into two parts, one dealing with the long range plan of President Roosevelt for insuring Americans against the "major hazards of our economic mechanism," and the other carrying special and immediate aid to the States in caring for dependent unemployables.

In the first division of the act are: (1) Provisions for Federal Old-Age Benefits (annuities) administered entirely by the Federal Government and provided for by Federal taxes to be paid by all employers and employees based on wages received in employment, with the exception of certain specified types of employment, such as, agricultural labor, domestic service in private homes, casual labor, etc.; and (2) Provisions for Grants to States for Unemployment Compensation Administration for the purpose of assisting the States in the administration of their Unemployment Compensation (insurance) laws and provided for by Federal taxes on employers of eight or more employees, with the exception of certain types of employment.

In the latter division of the act are provisions whereby the States may receive Federal grants-in-aid to assist the States in providing for:

I PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

(1) Old-Age Assistance

(2) Aid to Dependent Children

(3) Aid to the Blind

II OTHER SERVICES

(1) Maternal and Child Health Services

(2) Services for Crippled Children

(3) Child-Welfare Services

(4) Vocational Rehabilitation

(5) Public-Health Work

(Further explanation of the provisions of the Social Security Act by the Social Security Board will be found in the appendix.)

The Social Security Act was approved on August 14, 1935, and soon thereafter the North Carolina Emergency Relief Administration, through the Social Service Division, began an extensive state-wide survey of relief families under care during the period from January 1, 1934, through September 1, 1935. The survey was conducted to determine the number of Aged Persons, Dependent Children, Blind Persons, Crippled Children, Dependent and Neglected Children, and Disabled Persons who may be eligible for the benefits of the Social Security Act relating to its provisions of grants-in-aid to States, in the event North Carolina enacts appropriate legislation, sets up or designates administrative agencies, and effects plans thereto in conformance with the requirements of the Federal law.

The survey, as stated, included cases under care between the dates of January 1, 1934, and September 1, 1935, but, however, the types of relief families, or cases*, included were limited to the three following groups:

1. All unemployable cases on relief during 1934 whose responsibility for care was turned over to the local governments on or about January 1, 1935 (a total of approximately 10,000 cases).

2. Unemployable cases who were on relief intermittently during the period from January 1, 1934, until September 1, 1935, the responsibility for care for whom had not been turned over to the local governments subsequent to the above group.

3. All cases actively on relief at any time during 1935 from January 1 to September 1.

Further, schedules were prepared only for the cases in the three groups mentioned above who presented problems which might classify such cases, in view of the definitions of eligibility as outlined in the act, as eligible for future participation in the benefits of the provisions of the act relating to grants-in-aid to States. Therefore, of the three groups mentioned above, the cases covered by the survey included only families wherein there were:

* The terms "relief families" and "relief cases" are to be considered synonymous.

1. AGED PERSONS 65 YEARS OF AGE OR OVER

(The assumption was made that, for practical purposes, all aged persons of relief status would be embraced by, or included in, a program of old-age assistance.)

2. DEPENDENT CHILDREN

(The term "Dependent Children" was defined as children under the age of sixteen who have been deprived of parental support or care because of the death, continued absence from the home, or incapacity, either physical or mental, of a parent, and who is living with immediate relatives (nearer than cousins), place of residence maintained by one or more of such relatives as his or their own home.)

3. BLIND PERSONS

(Blind persons were considered as those whose sight is so impaired that practical vocational rehabilitation is impossible and who, therefore, are totally dependent and would be considered eligible for assistance of such nature as "Pensions to the Blind.")

4. CRIPPLED CHILDREN

(Defined as children under sixteen years of age who are either crippled or suffering from physical conditions or diseases which lead to crippling, and who are in need of services for providing medical, surgical, and corrective care, and facilities for diagnosis, hospitalization, and after care.)

5. DISABLED PERSONS

(Disabled persons were considered as those who have been disabled in industry, or have suffered accidents, deformity at birth, or acute diseases which created permanent physical disability, and who are in need of and may be expected to benefit from "Vocational Rehabilitation Services.")

6. HOMELESS, DEPENDENT, AND NEGLECTED CHILDREN, AND CHILDREN IN DANGER OF BECOMING DELINQUENT.

(The children classified under this heading were considered as children in need of "Child-Welfare Services," for the protection of such children against conditions leading to acute dependency, neglect, and delinquency.)

The type of schedule used in the survey (see sample on following page) was designed primarily to obtain, from individual social case records, a transcription of all relevant information pertaining to the cases covered by the survey.

The case workers in each county were responsible for the perparation of schedules on the families in their districts. If, in any instance, the family case record was incomplete, as to information called for on the schedule, visits to families were made to obtain such information.

As the schedules were completed by the local case workers, they were forwarded to the District Social Service Supervisors, who checked them for apparent irregularities and omissions, and obtained further information on file in the district offices. The completed schedules were then forwarded to the State office of the Emergency Relief Administration for tabulation and analysis.

Altogether, the individual case records of approximately 105,000 relief families were examined. This number represents the total number of relief families embraced by the survey, as outlined on page 5. A total of 29,372 schedules were prepared and forwarded to the State office, representing 29,372 relief families. Of the total number of persons in these families the analysis of the schedules revealed that there were 65,206 persons who presented problems which, according to the reasonably broad interpretations of eligibility requirements, classified them as eligible for future participation in the benefits of the "grants-in-aid to States" provisions of the Social Security Act.

These 65,206 persons who may be termed "covered by the Social Security Act" are classified according to the following distribution:

TOTAL AGED PERSONS 65 YEARS OF AGE AND OVER	16,313
TOTAL DEPENDENT CHILDREN	39,816
TOTAL BLIND PERSONS	1,046
TOTAL CRIPPLED CHILDREN IN NEED OF TREATMENT, MEDICAL CARE, ETC.	617
TOTAL DISABLED PERSONS	1,968
TOTAL HOMELESS, DEPENDENT, AND NEGLECTED CHILDREN, AND CHILDREN IN DANGER OF BECOMING DELINQUENT	5,446
	65,206

On the following page is a tabulation for the State as a whole of relief cases (families) and eligible persons in these families classified by problem, employability, place of residence, and color or race. (This tabulation is a summary or recapitulation of the individual county tabulations in the appendix.)

In the following tabulation, employable and unemployable cases, respectively, are taken to mean families or cases wherein there are able-bodied persons of an employable age, and families where there is no one who is either able-bodied or of an employable age.

Rural families are considered as those in towns less than 2500 and in open country. Urban families are considered as those in towns of 2500 and over.

Further, to explain an apparent irregularity in the foregoing tabulation, it should be noted that the first two columns, under the heading NET TOTAL UNDUPLICATED, are the actual numerical totals of eligible families and persons, which for persons only is an arithmetical sum of the columns to the right, but, however, for cases (families) is not an arithmetical sum of the columns to the right since cases presenting more than one problem were counted more than once, that is, were enumerated under the problem headings for each additional problem.

Example: A family (regardless of total number in family) wherein there were two aged persons and two dependent children would be tabulated:

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE

The following is a summary furnished by the Social Security Board:

FEDERAL GRANTS TO STATE PLANS FOR OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE

To be made by the Social Security Board under Title I of the Social Security Act, Public No. 271, 74th Congress

Definition

"Old-age assistance" means money payments to aged needy individuals.

Conditions Required of State Plan to Receive Federal Grants

1. Submission to and approval by Social Security Board;
2. Effective in all political subdivisions of the State, and if administered by them, mandatory upon them;
3. Provision for financial participation by the State, except that this condition is waived until July 1, 1937, if the Board finds that a State's Constitution prevents such participation;
4. Either provision for the establishment or designation of a single State agency to administer the plan, or for the establishment or designation of a single State agency to supervise the administration of the plan;
5. Provision for granting to any individual whose claim for old-age assistance is denied, an opportunity for a fair hearing before such State agency;
6. Such methods of administration (other than those relating to selection, tenure of office, and compensation of personnel) as are found by the Social Security Board to be necessary for the efficient operation of the plan;
7. Submission of such reports in such form and containing such information as the Federal Social Security Board may from time to time require, and compliance with the provisions which the Board may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports;
8. Provision that if the State or any of its political subdivisions collects from the estate of any recipient of old-age assistance any amount with respect to old-age assistance furnished him under the plan, one-half of the net amount so collected shall be promptly paid to the United States;
9. Age requirement of not more than sixty-five years, except that until January 1, 1940, an age requirement of as much as seventy years may be imposed;
10. Residence requirement which does not exclude any resident of the State who has resided therein five years during the nine years immediately preceding the application for old-age assistance and who has resided therein continuously for one year preceding application;
11. Absence of any citizenship requirement which excludes any citizen of the United States.

Amount of Grant to Each State

1. A quarterly amount which shall be used exclusively as old-age assistance equal to one-half of the total sums expended in the State in such quarter as old-age assistance to needy individuals sixty-five years of age who are not inmates of public institutions, not counting so much of such expenditure to any individual in excess of $30 a month;
2. 5 percent of the total Federal quarterly grant to be used solely for costs of administering the State plan, or for old-age assistance, or both.

Methods of Computing and Paying Grants

1. Estimates of amounts to be paid States will be based on:
   (a) State report of total sum to be expended each quarter for old-age assistance, with statement of amount appropriated or made available by the State and its political subdivisions. (If the amount appropriated is less than one-half of the total sum of estimated quarterly expenditures, the source or sources from which the difference is expected to be derived must be stated.)
   (b) Records of the total number of aged individuals in the State.
   (c) Such investigation as the Social Security Board may find necessary.
2. Payments will be made to the State at the time or times fixed by the Social Security Board:
   (a) After certification by the Social Security Board to the Secretary of the Treasury of the amount due the State reduced or increased by any sum by which its estimate for any quarter was greater or less than the amount which should have been paid;
   (b) By the Secretary of the Treasury, through the Division of Disbursement, prior to audit or settlement by the General Accounting Office.

Suspension of Grants

If the Social Security Board finds, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to the State agency administering or supervising the administration of the State plan, that the plan has been so changed as to impose prohibited age, residence, or citizenship requirements, or failed to comply substantially with conditions required for Federal approval, the Board shall notify the State agency that the Federal grants will not be made until such conditions are rectified.

On September 3, 1936, a total of 38 States and Territories with laws and plans for Old-Age Assistance had been approved for participation by the Social Security Board, and were as follows:

Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

State: For total amount out of property not exempt from execution. Recovery of double amount paid in excess of that which recipient legally entitled to, if value of property exceeds legal limit.

Provisions For Reimbursement to Federal Government:
Proportionate share repaid to U. S. Government.

The survey revealed that there are 16,313 relief persons 65 years of age and over who will, in all probability, be entitled to Old-Age Assistance, provided North Carolina appropriates funds to be administered or supervised by an appropriate agency approved by the Social Security Board as meeting the requirements of the act in order to obtain the Federal grants which are authorized on a fifty-fifty basis of which the Federal Government's share in no case shall exceed $15 a month per person (or a total $30. State and Federal).

North Carolina at present makes no provision as a regular function for assistance to the dependent aged, with the exception of State pensions to Confederate Veterans and their Widows and other minor State pensions. In addition, according to the figures for the fiscal year 1933-34, the County Outside Poor Fund approximated $300,000 annually, and approximately $600,000 for the administrative and maintenance of County Homes and Farms.

The Committee on Economic Security estimated that in 1934 there were 7,200,000 persons 65 years of age and over in the nation. Experts believe that this aged population will continue to grow for at least 40 years and it is estimated that in 1975 the total population of persons 65 years of age and over will be around 21,000,000 persons. It is further shown that year by year the proportion of men 65 years of age and over unoccupied increases rapidly. The Committee further estimates that there were in 1934 approximately 2,400,000 aged persons in need. On a population comparison basis, North Carolina's proportion of needy aged would be about 60,000. However, on the basis of the 16,313 aged persons covered by the survey and the fact that there were in County Homes an average daily population of approximately 3,500 persons for the year 1935-36, it may be assumed that North Carolina's number of needy aged, who may be termed eligible under rules and regulations to be adopted by whatever administrative agency may be designated or established, will not be in excess of from 20,000 to 30,000 persons.

Data reported, for the month of June, 1936, by the official State agencies to the Social Security Board revealed that for a total of 34 States, the number of aged persons receiving Old-Age Assistance was 635,395, or an average of 18,688 recipients per State. Total payments to recipients from Federal, State and local funds averaged $16.02 per recipient. Assuming that 20,000 aged persons may be declared eligible by the official State agency in North Carolina, and applying the above average monthly grant per person of $16.02 (or $8.01, State and local), it will be seen that the annual State and local appropriations necessary to match an equal Federal grant to the State, would be approximately $1,920,000. But, however, County Outside Poor Funds, together with expenditures for maintenance of County Homes and Farms could be materially reduced through the discontinuance of this type of care wherever possible in favor of Old-Age Assistance under the Social Security Act.

AID TO DEPENDENT CHILDREN

The following is a summary furnished by the Social Security Board:

FEDERAL GRANTS TO STATE PLANS FOR AID TO DEPENDENT CHILDREN (MOTHERS' AID)

To be made by the Social Security Board under Title IV of the Social Security Act, Public No. 271, 74th Congress

Definition

Aid to dependent children means money payments to a needy dependent child (or dependent child) under the age of sixteen who has been deprived of parental support or care by reason of the death, continued absence from the home, or physical or mental incapacity of a parent, and who is living with father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, stepfather, stepmother, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle or aunt, in a place maintained by one or more such relatives as his or her own home.

Conditions Required of State Plan to Receive Federal Grants

1. Approval by the Social Security Board;
2. Effective in all political subdivisions of the State, and, if administered by them, mandatory upon them;
3. Provision for financial participation by the State;
4. Either provision for the establishment or designation of a single State agency to administer the plan, or for the establishment or designation of a single State agency to supervise the administration of the plan;
5. Provision for granting to any individual whose claim with respect to aid to a dependent child is denied, an opportunity for a fair hearing before such State agency;
6. Such methods of administration (other than those relating to selection, tenure of office, and compensation of personnel) as are found by the Social Security Board to be necessary for the efficient operation of the plan;
7. Submission of such reports in such form and containing such information as the Federal Social Security Board may from time to time require, and compliance with the provisions which the Board may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports.
8. Residence requirement which does not exclude any child who has resided in the State for one year immediately preceding the application for such aid or who was born within the State within one year preceding the application, if its mother has resided in the State for one year immediately preceding the birth.

Amount of Grant to Each State

A quarterly amount which shall be used exclusively for carrying out the State plan, equal to one-third of the total of the sums expended in the State during such quarter, not counting so much of such expenditure to any dependent child for any month as exceeds $18, or if there is more than one dependent child in the same home, as exceeds $18 for any month with respect to one such dependent child and $12 for such month with respect to each of the other dependent children.

Methods of Computing and Paying Grants

1. Estimates of amounts to be paid States will be based on:
   (a) State report of total sum to be expended each quarter for aid to dependent children, with statement of amount appropriated or made available by the State and its political subdivisions. (If the amount appropriated is less than two-thirds of the total sum of estimated quarterly expenditures, the source or sources from which the difference is expended to be derived must be stated.)
   (b) Records of the total number of dependent children in the State.
   (c) Such investigation as the Social Security Board may find necessary.
2. Payments will be made to the State at the time or times fixed by the Social Security Board:
   (a) After certification by the Social Security Board to the Secretary of the Treasury of the amount due the State reduced or increased by any sum by which its estimate for any quarter was greater or less than the amount which should have been paid;
   (b) By the Secretary of the Treasury, through the Division of Disbursement, prior to audit of settlement by the General Accounting Office.

Suspension of Grants

If the Social Security Board finds, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to the State agency administering or supervising the administration of the State plan, that the plan has been so changed as to impose prohibited residence requirements, or failed to comply substantially with conditions required for Federal approval, the Board shall notify the State agency that Federal grants will not be made until such conditions are rectified.

On September 3, 1936, a total of 22 States and Territories with laws and plans for Aid to Dependent Children had been approved for participation by the Social Security Board, and were as follows:

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, District of Columbia, Idaho, Indiana, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

FAIR HEARING BEFORE STATE DEPARTMENT:

Review of denial before state Pension Department allowed.

REPORT TO FEDERAL BOARD:
Required.

North Carolina, according to the figures for the fiscal year 1935-36, is expending approximately $31,000 annually, which is supplemented by an equal amount by the counties, for aid to dependent children through its Mothers' Aid Program, in addition to an unusual expenditure of approximately $6,000 for Boarding and Foster Home Care.

The 39,816 children of relief families who were termed "Dependent Children" seems a rather high figure. This can reasonably be attributed to the broad and inclusive definition of Dependent Children of the Social Security Act. However, it will be noticed that of the 39,816 children covered by the survey, 15,967 children alone were described as "dependent" because of the death of one or both parents.

If, for example, only 10,000 of these motherless or fatherless children are declared eligible by rules and regulations which may be determined by the official State agency, then on the basis of data reported by official State agencies of 21 States for the month of June, 1936, which revealed an average monthly grant of $11.07 per child ($3.69 Federal, $7.38 State and local), a total State and local appropriation of $885,600 annually would be required to maintain an equal average monthly grant to dependent children.

AID TO THE BLIND

The following is a summary furnished by the Social Security Board.

FEDERAL GRANTS TO STATE PLANS FOR AID TO THE BLIND

To be made by the Social Security Board under Title X of the Social Security Act, Public No. 271, 74th Congress

Definition

Aid to the Blind means money payments to needy blind individuals.

1. Submission to and approval by Social Security Board;
2. Effective in all political subdivisions of the State, and if administered by them, mandatory upon them;
3. Provision for financial participation by the State;
4. Either provision for the establishment or designation of a single State agency to administer the plan, or for the establishment or designation of a single State agency to supervise the administration of the plan;
5. Provision for granting to any individual whose claim for aid is denied, an opportunity for a fair hearing before such State agency;
6. Such methods of administration (other than those relating to selection, tenure of office, and compensation of personnel) as are found by the Social Security Board to be necessary for the efficient operation of the plan;
7. Submission of such reports in such form and containing such information as the Federal Social Security Board may from time to time require, and compliance with the provisions which the Board may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports;
8. Denial of aid to any individual under the plan with respect to any period when he is receiving old-age assistance under a Federally approved plan;
9. Absence of any residence requirement which excludes any resident of the State who has resided therein five years during the nine years immediately preceding the application for aid and who has resided therein continuously for one year preceding application;
10. Absence of any citizenship requirement which excludes any citizen of the United States.

Amount of Grant to Each State

1. A quarterly amount which shall be used exclusively as aid to the blind. equal to one-half of the total sums expended in the State in such quarter as aid to the needy blind who are not inmates of public institutions, not counting so much of such expenditure to any individual in excess of $30. a month.
2. 5 percent of the total Federal quarterly grant to be used solely for costs of administering the State plan for aid to the blind, or both.

Methods of Computing and Paying Grants

1. Estimates of amounts to be paid States will be based on:
   (a) State report of total sum to be expended each quarter for aid to the blind, with statement of amount appropriated or made available by the State and its political subdivisions. (If the amount appropriated is less than one-half of the total sum of estimated quarterly expenditures, the source or sources from which the difference is expected to be derived must be stated.)

(b) Records of the total number of blind individuals in the State.

(c) Such investigation as the Social Security Board may find necessary.

2. Payments will be made to the State;

(a) After certification by the Social Security Board to the Secretary of the Treasury of the amount due the State reduced or increased by any sum by which its estimate for any prior quarter was greater or less than the amount which should have been paid;

(b) By the Secretary of the Treasury, through the Division of Disbursement, prior to audit or settlement by the General Accounting Office.

Suspension of Grants

If the Social Security Board finds, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to the State agency administering or supervising the administration of the State plan, that the plan has been so changed as to impose prohibited residence or citizenship requirements, or fails to comply substantially with conditions required for Federal approval, the Board shall notify the State agency that Federal grants will not be made until such conditions are rectified.

MAXIMUM ALLOWANCE: $360. per year if blind. $480. per year if both blind and deaf.

PROVISIONS FOR REMOVAL OF DISABILITY:
No provision.

ADMINISTRATIVE RESPONSIBILITY:
The County Judge. (County Departments of Public Welfare in counties over 500,000 population and county Pension Departments in counties of less than 500,000 population, if established.)

SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITY:
State Pension Department adopts rules and regulations and exercises actual supervision.

SOURCE OF FUNDS: County (Property Tax) state reimburses county 84% of its expenditure, 4% of which is for administrative expense. (general fund)

FAIR HEARING BEFORE STATE DEPARTMENT:
Review of denial allowed to State Pension Department.

REPORT TO FEDERAL BOARD:
Required.

The survey revealed that there is a total of 1,046 blind persons termed eligible for Aid to the Blind. This figure closely approximates the 1930 census figure of the total blind in the State.

The General Assembly in 1935 created the "North Carolina Commission for the Blind," with an annual appropriation of $25,000. Federal funds were granted to the State for Aid to the Blind for a short period during the first part of the year 1936. Since June, 1936, however, North Carolina's plan has been disapproved, which may require further legislation.

The Commission for the Blind is at present conducting a survey or census of all blind persons in the State

For the month of June, 1936, the official agencies of 22 States expended $467,468. as reported to the Social Security Board, for 20,287 blind individuals, or an average of $23.04 per recipient ($11.52 Federal, $11.52 State and local).

Appendix

EXPLANATION OF THE PROVISIONS of the SOCIAL SECURITY ACT*

The Social Security Act, approved on August 1 4, 1935, represents a major advance in the attainment of economic security for the individual and for his family. The President outlined the entire program in his messages of June 8, 1934, and January 4, 1935. He stated that:

> Among our objectives I place the security of the men, women, and children of the Nation first.

He further said that security for the individual and for the family concerns itself with three factors: (1) Decent homes to live in; (2) development of the natural resources of the country so as to afford the fullest opportunity to engage in produc tive work; and (3) safeguards against the major misfortunes of life. The Social Security Act is concerned with the third of these factors - "safeguards against misfortunes which cannot be wholly eliminated in this man-made world of ours".

The act was devised to provide some safeguard against the insecurity of modern life through cooperative action by the Federal and State governments, thus making possible fullest consideration of the local economic and social problems existing within States while maintaining a national unity of program and purpose.

The provisions of the act deal with a number of distinct though related measures for social security which may be grouped under the following headings:

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION.
OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE AND OLD-AGE BENEFITS.
SECURITY FOR CHILDREN.
AID TO THE BLIND.
EXTENSION OF PUBLIC-HEALTH SERVICES.
VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION.

* Informational Service, Social Security Board, April 1936.

The explanation of the provisions of the Social Security Act as set forth below does not pretend to be exhaustive and complete. Persons interested in the legislation should consult the act itself, copies of which are available upon application to the Social Security Board.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

The Social Security Act does not establish any unemployment compensation systems. The States are invited to enact laws for the compensation of their unemployed. The Federal Government does not require or seek to force them to enact laws of any particulat type. Their freedom to pass those laws best suited to their local conditions and problems is protected.

The provisions of the Social Security Act relating to unemployment compensation are very simple. A pay-roll tax amounting to 1 percent of pay roll in 1936, 2 percent in 1937, and 3 percent in 1938 and thereafter, is levied on all employers of eight or more persons for 20 weeks or more. Agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, certain maritime employment, service in the employ of the United States Government or State governments, or their instrumentalities or political subdivisions, service performed for certain very close relatives, and for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, and educational institutions of a nonprofit nature are excepted from this tax. Each employer may credit against this tax, up to 90 percent thereof, his contributions to a State unemployment compensation fund established in accordance with a State unemployment compensation law which has been approved by the Social Security Board. The Federal tax will bring money into the General Treasury, for the general purposes of the Federal Government.

This means that a State which passes an unemployment compensation law will be able to withdraw nine-tenths of this pay-roll tax for its own unemployed, by collecting it as contributions under its own law, rather than letting the Federal Government collect it as a tax. The administration of the State law will not cost the State anything, if such administration is efficient, for under the Social Security Act the Federal Government stands ready to grant to the States sufficient amounts to pay all proper administrative expenses. Nor will the State which acts promptly be at any competitive disadvantage with other States, for the pay rolls of employers in States which do not act will be subject to the full Federal tax.

The difference between a State which passes an approved unemployment compensation law and those which do not, then, is that the State with such a law will enable its employers to get the benefit of the credit against the Federal tax.

On March 31, 1936, eight States and the District of Columbia, whose employers provide a third of the entire taxable pay roll of the country, had unemployment compensation laws which had been approved by the Social Security Board. In several other States, bills proposing such laws are being introduced in the legislatures now convening. The success of the Federal Social Security Act as a means of reducing the economic and social disturbances of unemployment will be dependent on the States. No unemployment compensation will be assured to the commercial or industrial worker until his State has an approved Law.

OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE AND OLD-AGE BENEFITS

The Social Security Act sets up two systems for aiding the aged. One is designed to help the States to give immediate assistance to aged individuals on a basis of need; the other to provide annuities in the future to persons over the age of 65, based upon their wage experience. The two plans are complementary and may be described briefly as follows:

(1) OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE (Immediate payment plan). - A State may submit to the Social Security Board for approval its plan for old-age assistance.

The Board is directed to approve such plans as conform to certain requirements as to eligibility, such as age, residence, and citizenship; and to requirements as to State operation and standards of administration, intended to assure proper and efficient State action by the enactment and administration of laws which may reasonably be expected to provide assistance to needy aged individuals without discrimination. After the plan is approved, the State receives from the Federal Government an amount equal to one-half the sum expended for old-age assistance by the State with respect to individuals 65 years or older who are not inmates of public institutions. The Federal Government matches on a 50-50 basis every dollar spent by the State for old-age assistance, but does not contribute more than $15 per month for any individual. In addition the Federal Government pays for administrative expenses, an amount equal to 5 percent of the sum granted to the State.

On March 31, 1936, there were 27 States with old-age assistance plans approved by the Social Security Board. For the 5 months ending June 30, 1936, the sum of $24,660,000 has been made available for allotment to States whose plans for old-age assistance have been approved. Thereafter sufficient funds are authorized to be appropriated to meet the needs of the States having approved plans.

(2) OLD-AGE BENEFITS (Annuity plan). Under this plan regular benefits are paid to qualified individuals as a matter of right out of an "old-age reserve account" set up in the Federal Treasury. A qualified individual is one who is at least 65 years of age, who received total wages with respect to employment after December 31, 1936, and before attaining 65 years of age, of not less than $2,000, and who has been employed in some 5 different calandar years after December 31, 1936, before attaining the age of 65 years.

The "wages" on which benefits are based do not include certain wages, for instance, wages received for agricultural labor; domestic service in a private home; casual labor; service on a vessel documented under the laws of the United States or any foreign country; service for Federal or State governments or their political subdivisions or instrumentalities; and service for nonprofit literary, religious, scientific, charitable, and educational organizations. Service in the employment of a carrier as defined in the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935 (Public, No. 399, 74th Cong. (H.R. 8651)) is further excluded. That part of an individual's remuneration in excess of $3,000 per year from each employer is not counted as such "wages".

A qualified individual is entitled to benefits from the day he reaches 65, or on January 1, 1942, whichever is later, and ending at his death. The benefits will be paid at regular stated intervals, at a rate computed as follows:

(Not counting wages from a single employer in excess of $3,000 annually)

Total wages received after Dec. 31, 1936, and prior to age 65, in covered employments	Percent of total wages paid as monthly rate of benefit
First $3,000	1/2
Next $42,000	1/12
All over $45,000	1/24

The minimum monthly benefit payment will be $10, and the maximum $85. Table I illustrates the benefits payable for various amounts of total wages.

Hence, a man who has received a monthly salary of $75 for 10 years subsequent to 1936 at which time he will attain the age of 65 years, will receive old-age benefits of $20 each month. If he reaches the age of 65 in 15 years after 1936, he will receive a monthly benefit of $23.75. These figures are merely illustrative; exact calculation of benefits can only be made on the basis of total wages earned. Even a month without employment would lessen slightly the amount of benefits payable after 30 years of employment.

Persons who leave included employment after having qualified as to number of days of employment and amount of wages received will become qualified individuals on attaining the age of 65. That is, if a man works the requisite time and earns a total of $2,000 or more in wages, he will be eligible for old-age benefits on reaching the age of 65, even though he may have worked in an excluded employment for 20 or 30 years.

Employees whose total wages or length of employment, as defined in the act, prior to their attaining the age of 65, are not sufficient to qualify them for benefits will be entitled to a lump-sum payment of $3\frac{1}{2}$ percent of their wages as defined in the act upon reaching that age. Receipt of a lump-sum payment or annuity under Federal old-age assistance plans as discribed on pages 3 and 4, if need for assistance can be established so as to qualify under the State Law.

* Maximum monthly benefit.

The act provides that the benefits received by any individual shall be reduced by the amount of 1 month's benefit for each calendar month in which the qualified individual receives wages for employment after reaching the age of 65.

The estates of individuals dying after attaining the age of 65 are entitled to $3\frac{1}{2}$ percent of the total wages paid to such individual with respect to employment (as defined in the act) subsequent to December 31, 1936, less the amount of old-age benefits actually paid to the individual during his life. Death payments of $3\frac{1}{2}$ percent of total wages (as defined) are made not only to the estates of qualified individuals, but to the estates of those who have earned some money in the included employments, but who have not worked long enough or earned enough to become "qualified".

SECURITY FOR CHILDREN

The act makes provision for the protection of children who are in need of special assistance by:

(1) Grants to States to assist in meeting the costs of aid to dependent children (mothers' aid).

(2) Grants to States to assist in meeting the costs of maternal and child-health services.

(3) Grants to States to assist in meeting the costs of services for crippled children.

(4) Grants to States to assist in meeting the costs of child-welfare services.

AID TO DEPENDENT CHILDREN. - The sum of $5,000,000 has been appropriated for the last 5 months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, and a sufficient sum has been authorized thereafter, for making payments to States which have submitted, and had approved by the Board, State plans for aid to dependent children. Seventeen States had approved plans on March 31, 1936. The Federal Government pays to each State an amount equal to one-third of the sums expended under such an approved plan, but payment in excess of $18 per month for the first child and $12 for each additional child in the same family is not counted in determining Federal aid. A "dependent child" may be defined broadly as a child under the age of 16 who has been deprived of parental support through death, absence, or incapacity of a parent and who is living in a private home maintained by immediate relatives.

MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH SERVICES. - A sum of $1,580,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, has been appropriated to the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor for grants-in-aid to States for maternal and child health services, especially in rural areas and in areas suffering from severe economic distress. This entire appropriation will be used exclusively for carrying out State plans for furthering and strengthening State and local health services to mothers and children and extending maternal and child health services in rural areas.

SERVICES TO CRIPPLED CHILDREN. - An appropriation of $1,187,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, has been made for grants-in-aid to States for medical care and other services for crippled children under the administration of the Children's Bureau. The amount of $20,000 is to be allotted to each State, with the balance allocated to the States on the basis of need, taking into consideration the number of crippled children in need of such services and the cost of furnishing such services. Within the limits of these allotments, the Federal Government will pay to each State which has an approved plan for services to crippled children an amount, which shall be used exclusively for carrying out the State plan, equal to one-half of the total sum expended for carrying out such plan.

CHILD-WELFARE SERVICES. - Under the administration of the Children's Bureau an appropriation of $625,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, has been made for grants-in-aid to States toward welfare services for the protection and care of homeless, dependent, and neglected children, and children in danger of becoming delinquent. This amount is to be allotted by the Secretary of Labor to the States primarily on the basis of rural population. The amount so allotted shall be expended for payment of part of the cost of district, county, or other local child-welfare services in areas predominantly rural, and for developing State services for the encouragement and assistance of adequate methods of community child-welfare organization in areas predominantly rural and other areas of special need.

AID TO THE BLIND

The sum of $2,000,000 has been appropriated for the last 5 months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, and a sufficient sum has been authorized thereafter, for the purpose of enabling each State to furnish financial assistance to needy individuals who are blind. This sum is made available for making payments to States which have submitted and had approved by the Social Security Board State plans for aid to the blind. Eighteen States had their plans approved by March 31, 1936. The Federal Government grants an amount equal to one-half the total sum expended under the State plan with respect to each individual who is blindand is not an inmate of a public institution. This Federal aid is limited to $15 per month plus an additional 5 percent to the State for administrative purposes.

The State receives these grants if its plans comply with certain standards prescribed by the Social Security Act, such as provisions for financial participation by the State, designation of a single State agency to administer the plan, adequate methods of administration, and provision that no aid shall be furnished a blind individual while in receipt of old-age assistance.

EXTENSION OF PUBLIC-HEALTH SERVICES

A sum of $3,300,000 has been appropriated for aid to State and local health services for the 5 months ending June 30, 1936, and $8,000,000 authorized for each year thereafter. Allotments to the States are to be made by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury on the basis of the population, the special health problems, and the financial needs of the respective States. This money is to be used by the States for extending State health services and for assistance to counties and other governmental units in maintaining adequate public-health programs.

An additional $375,000 has been appropriated for the last 5 months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, to the Public Health Service for the investigation of diseases and related problems which are national or interstate in character.

This authorization is in line with well-established Federal policies, but represents a very great extension of Federal participation in preventive public-health services. The amount suggested to be appropriated is almost double the present total of all Federal expenditures for public health, and this entire amount is intended to be used for the prevention of preventable sickness.

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION

In order to provide for the extending and strengthening of programs of vocational rehabilitation of the physically disabled, the Social Security Act also authorizes an appropriation of $841,000 for the fiscal year 1937 and $1,938,000 annually thereafter, to be distributed as grants-in aid to the States for vocational rehabilitation purposes in addition to the appropriation available under provisions of the existing law; $350,000 has been appropriated for the 5 months ending June 30, 1936, for this purpose. The existing Federal Vocational Rehabilitation Act is administered by the Office of Education in the Department of the Interior.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

Title VII of the act establishes a Social Security Board composed of three members to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The term of office of these members will be 6 years. Not more than two of the members of the Board shall be of the same political party and the chairman is to be designated by the President.

The Board is authorized to appoint and fix the compensation of such officers or employees as may be necessary for carrying out its functions under the act. All appointments, with the exception of attorneys and experts, must be made in accordance with the civil-service laws.

Those provisions of the act dealing with grants-in-aid to States for unemployment compensation, old-age assistance, aid to the blind, and aid to dependent children, and old-age benefits, are to be administered by and under the supervision of the Board. In addition, the act places upon the Board the duty of studying and making recommendations as to the most effective methods of providing economic security through social insurance, and as to legislation and matters of administrative policy concerning old-age pensions, unemployment compensation, accident compensation, and related subjects.

TAXES

The Social Security Act imposes three separate and distinct taxes, the proceeds of which are paid into the General Treasury of the United States.

(1) Title IX imposes a tax on all employers who have had 8 or more individuals in their employ for at least some portion of the day, on each of some 20 days during the taxable year, each day being in a different calendar week. The tax is based upon the employer's pay roll. In determining the wages to be taken into consideration in computing such tax, certain service is excluded, for example, agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, certain maritime employment, service in the employ of the United States Government or State governments, or their political subdivisions or instrumentalities, service performed for certain very close relatives, and service for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, and educational institutions of a non-profit nature.

Employers subject to the act are required to pay the following percentages of total wages paid by them with respect to employment not excepted by the provisions of the act:

(1) For the calendar year 1936, 1 percent.
(2) For the calendar year 1937, 2 percent.
(3) For each calendar year thereafter, 3 percent.

Against this tax, based on wages, the employer may credit the amount of contributions based on wages paid by him during the taxable year into a State unemployment fund under a State law approved by the Social Security Board. Credits, however, may not exceed 90 percent of the Federal tax.

(2) Title VIII imposes two taxes - an income tax on employees and an excise tax on employers.

The tax on employees does not apply to wages received for agricultural labor; domestic service in a private home; casual labor; service on a vessel documented under the laws of the United States or any foreign country; service for Federal or State governments, or their political subdivisions or instrumentalities; service for nonprofit literary, religious, scientific, charitable, and educational organizations; and wages received by an individual who has attained the age of 65. Public, No. 400 (74th Cong. (H.R. 8652)) further excludes wages in the employment of a carrier as therein defined.

The tax on employers applies to all employers (as distinguished from the tax under title IX which applies to employers of 8 or more) and is measured by the wages paid by them after December 31, 1936, with respect to employment that is subject to the income tax on employees mentioned above.

The act provides that the tax on employees is to be deducted by the employers from the wages when paid, and is to be turned over to the United States by the employer under rules and regulations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The tax is not to be allowed as a deduction in computing net income and the income tax of the employee.

The rate of tax on the wages of the employees not exempted from the act and on the pay rolls of the employers with respect to employment not exempted from the act are as follows (excluding in both cases the wages of an individual in excess of $3,000 from a single employer with respect to covered employment during a taxable year):

Calendar years	Taxes
	Percent
1937-38-39	1
1940-41-42	$1\frac{1}{2}$
1943-44-45	2
1946-47-48	$2\frac{1}{2}$
1949-thereafter	3

Rules and regulations for the collection of the taxes levied under titles VIII and IX of the Social Security Act will be issued from time to time by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The first set of regulations relating to the excise tax on employers under title IX of the Social Security Act has already been issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue of the Treasury Department and is available from the Government Printing Office in Washington. The exact title of these first regulations is: "Regulations 90, Relating to the Excise Tax on Employers under title IX of the Social Security Act".
